YESTERDAY'S NEWS IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

FROM SHOP AND SIDEWALK.

Coupon Cases to be Tried. Painful Accident. Died of His Injuries. Marriage License Granted Yesterday.

The board walk along Jefferson street north of Hotel Felix, was repaired yesterday.

Judge William Gordon Robertson returned yesterday from Lynchburg and will hold court here tomorrow.

A marriage license was granted yesterday by the clerk of the Hustings court to Mr. Harry Jenkins and Miss Willie Murrell.

The coupon cases of several parties against the commonwealth, will come up before Judge Robertson in the Hustings court tomorrow morning.

Mr. T. L. Carleton, of East Roanoke, had his right ankle badly sprained yesterday morning by stepping between a loose board on the sidewalk, on Commonwealth Avenue.

The car load of gravel placed at the Jefferson street crossing by the Norfolk and Western railroad is proving a great boon to pedestrians, as the mud at that place was something alarming.

William Lumpkins, the colored man who was injured on Railroad Avenue Friday morning by falling lumber, has since died of his injuries. He will be buried this morning in the colored cemetery.

Jack Hawkins, a colored boy, was painfully injured yesterday afternoon, by being struck with a rock on the head by Robert Clements, a notorious little black rascal, who resides on the historical (?) Bunker Hill. No arrests have been made.

AMUSEMENTS.

Attractions for the Coming Week at the Opera House.

Mrs. Abbott one of the most remarkable women of the age, will be at the Opera House on Friday and Saturday evenings. The Boston Herald says of her:

"She is a slight woman, girlish in appearance, and very much like what she is represented to be—a Southern-bred young woman. She cannot weigh more than ninety pounds, is small of bone and good looking. 'She is little, but oh, my!' She doesn't look strong enough to lift a plate of ice cream, but she lifted eight heavy men, piled upon each other in two ordinary chairs. With her fingertips touching the proscenium wall, she invited half a dozen men, three of them athletes, to push her against the side of the building, and the perspiration rolled off them while they attempted it, and made a failure of the job. A number of other tests were made, and the visitors were astonished at the results. Neither the management, nor Mrs. Abbott attempt to account for the results produced. The management gives the exhibition in full view of the audience, without the use of a cabinet or darkened stage, with no appliances save ordinary articles of furniture."

McCarthy's Mishaps.
 We append a brief reference from the New Orleans Daily Picayune in regard to the famed farce "McCarthy's Mishaps," which will occupy the opera house on Monday evening next.

"A packed house last night witnessed the first performance here of Mr. Rice's Ferguson and Mack company in 'McCarthy's Mishaps.' The play overflows with fun and keeps the audience in a roar of laughter. There is no plot at all to the piece but specialties are constantly given. It is something on the order of 'Muldoon's Picnic,' and is bound to amuse."

New Advertisements.
 Your attention is called to the advertisement of Mr. C. A. Woolford, real estate agent and town lot broker. He is a reliable and energetic gentleman. If you wish to buy or sell property in Roanoke, call at his office, No. 20, First Avenue, S. W., in the Woolford building, and he will take pleasure in showing you around.

Messrs. Ellis Brothers & Harrell are opening up a large line of clothing and general furnishing goods in the Moomaw building, Jefferson street. Watch for their new announcement, it will appear in a few days.

Among the many new agents for the sale of real estate that have made their appearance in Roanoke recently are W. P. Camp & Co. Mr. Camp is one of the oldest business men in the city, having been in active mercantile business since 1882. He is reliable and worthy of public esteem and patronage. His office is in the Moomaw Building, Jefferson street.

Attention is called to the law card of F. H. S. Morrison, esq., which appears in another column. Mr. Morrison has been a resident of the city for several years and has built up a large law practice.
